A Luncheon Honoring

Diane Riley

Anti-Hunger Advocate and Aging Insights Guest

For over a decade, Diane has been a leading voice for the hungry and poor in New Jersey. Joining the Community Food Bank in 2011, Diane led a coalition of stakeholders to raise awareness about hunger, engage in public dialogue, and influence policies that address underlying causes as well as solutions. As a member of numerous organizations and at every opportunity when Diane addresses hunger issues she always calls attention to the plight of seniors who face economic challenges daily. She is on the executive board of the Anti-Poverty Network of New Jersey, the Passaic Food Policy Council and the advisory board of the Lutheran Episcopal Advocacy Ministry.

Eileen Doremus

Advocate for Seniors and Caregivers and Aging Insights Guest

Eileen Doremus has served as a former Trustee and advisor of the NJFA. Eileen in her current role as the Executive Director of the Mercer County Office on Aging and throughout her career has championed the issue of aging and caregiver services especially when looking at the needs of families coping with Alzheimer's and Dementia. She is a dedicated advocate and an expert on caregiving and creativity. She has been a featured guest on Aging Insights several times.

Piscataway Community TV Station Technical Director and Aging Insights Partner

Piscataway Township became one of the first towns in NJ to have its own TV station. Over thirty years later, Piscataway Community TV (PCTV) is still producing local programming, sports coverage and providing local information to the residents of the communities it serves. PCTV also provides services for individuals to produce their own TV shows and where people interested in learning about TV and college interns can come and get hands-on experience. NJFA partnered with PCTV to initiate the monthly series Aging Insights. PCTV's knowledgeable staff and dedicated volunteers produce a stellar program with NJFA staff each month.
