

2017 NJFA Fall CEU Workshops

Thursday, October 5

8:30AM to 12:00PM

The National Conference Center
399 Monmouth St., East Windsor

ADVOCACY AND ENHANCING CONNECTIONS FOR LGBT SENIORS

Carolyn Bradley, PhD, School of Social Work, Monmouth University

Gina Maguire, LCSW, Stockton Center on Successful Aging

Is aging the same for everyone in New Jersey? It is the responsibility of the healthcare provider to effectively understand and respond to the unique culture and language of consumers seeking services. Participants will develop knowledge and skills to enhance their relationship with LGBT older adults by glean- ing insights and awareness that will create a more respectful understanding of the population, will gain knowledge on the geographical differences of LGBT aging, as well as both the opportunities and barriers to services. Providers will be intro- duced to cultural competency with LGBT affirming behaviors, knowledge, attitudes and strategies.

ELDER ABUSE: RECOGNIZING, REPORTING AND INTERVENING

Maria E. Aberasturi, Supervisor, Bergen Co. Board of Social Services

Lisa Barnes, MSW, Family and Children's Service

Jennifer Mills, Supervisor, Adult Protective Services, NJ Division of Aging Services

Overview of NJ's Adult Protective Services Act including eli- gibility criteria; statutory definitions; worker training; general reporting and response process; limitations; and mandatory reporting requirements. We will also review the indicators of abuse, neglect and exploitation.

Wednesday, November 8

8:30AM to 12:00PM

CentraState Hospital Conference Center

HOARDING: WHY AND INTERVENTIONS

Carolyn M. Quinn, CPRP, CRSP, ICPRS, CPRS-R, DRCC, B.S.-ICE

Jaime Angelini, MA, DRCC

Both presenters are from the Mental Health Association in Atlantic County
This presentation will talk about the growing issues related to hoarding and clutter. This workshop will focus on both the financial and emotional costs; methods of interaction and best practices to use when working with individuals. It will also detail how we, as providers, can apply new strategies to begin the conversation.

OPTIONS FOR HOME MODIFICATION AND SMART HOME TECHNOLOGY

Diane Vitillo, PT, OT, President Home Heart Beats, LLC

Holly L. Hardaway, OTR, CALA, CAPS, Independent Domain, LLC

This course will cover how our bodies change with age and how assistive technology and adaptive aids can help. The presenter will explain how reducing physical barrier in and around a client's home can impact their safety and quality of life. The presentation will cover different types of changes like vision loss, memory issues and other physical limitations. The presenter will also review how to know when it is time to seek assistance and what type of services can facilitate the clients goal – whether it be to remain at home or be safe in various care settings.
